Ballplayers to Continue Fight, But Won't Strike, Says Fultz

The turning down of the Players' Fraternity by the National Commission, an was appounced exclusively yesterday in the Evening World, has aroused a lot of talk among the players. It was the first intimation that the magnates had turned down their demands, and Dave Fultz, president of the fraternity, was besieged by members asking what action would be taken.

President Fultz may have something to say today. He is looking over the answer of the Baseball Commission and will not discuss future action until he has reed carefully every word contained in the answer of the magnates.

Shea to Manage Kansas City. Jeff Tesreau is expected to have the best year he ever has pitched. "Ole Reliable Matty" is, of course, a mainstay, and Rube Marquard says he feels better than he ever did before. Counting that way, McGraw has three regulars on whom he can depend. The three seem to have an even chance to break in with the three regulars and make up the harmonious quartet. Perritt did well with the Cardinals; Schauer showed some class in a few games in which he played with the Giants last autumn, and Emiliano Palmero has been creating all kinds of records in the flinging art. The winter has been a good one for the Cuban, who has been playing ball in Havann.

Of course, Art Fromme will always be on the side lines to go to the mound after the pitcher has been derricked to make way for a pinch-hitter. And, of course, there are a dozen more recruits who are fighting for a regular job in the low.
